FLEXIBLE POWER SOLUTIONS

Statement on VEO batteries,

VEO batteries does not constitute any danger while under transport

Batteries are fully certified according to UN38.3 and IEC62133

- why are some cameraes being returned with battery issues?

In some cameras we have seen a battery capacity lower than expected by the customer – therefore the cameraes will be mounted with new and improved batteries with longer lifetime

As we have communication with the battery through the camera we can rule out safety issues in this regard

The BMS with all safety functions according to above standards, is fully functioning and is in no regard affected by the battery capacity
